Rallye de France 2013 will be the final WRC rally of Sebastien Loeb's career so expect large crowds and an amazing atmosphere as the Maestro works his magic one last time in front of his adoring home crowd. We are the only Tour Operator to have offered tours to Rally de France 2010-12 and completed almost 1000km during our 'recce' of those rallies, giving us an unrivalled knowledge of the best places to visit on the stages... and where to avoid the 5km+ walks and long traffic queues!

Our Rally Info Packs include directions, 1:50K colour maps of the stages and rally route, tips and info on the Spectator Areas and GPS SatNav co-ordinates of ALL the viewing areas.

Self-Drive Tour - Inclusions Full details will appear here shortly...

Escorted Tours Rallye de France - Our thoughts... Despite having organised travel packages to all of the WRC Rallye de France-Alsace events we feel that due to the large amount of spectators likely to attend the event in 2013, and the nature of the access roads to the stages, we would not be able to guarantee our usual high level of service for an Escorted Tour.

The rally is fantastic, of that there is no doubt, but we feel in our experience that it would be best suited to 'Self-Drive' packages with us in 2013.

Just 3 weeks later on Rally Spain we have one of most popular Escorted Tours available and we would ask that clients take a look at that as an Escorted Tour alternative.
