Full Description

The wine production in the Algarve goes back to the arrival of the Phoenicians in Portugal. Although not as abundant as in the Douro or Alentejo, the quality of its wine is not behind the rest.

On this tour, you will get to know the history of the Algarve wine and visit two family wine-producing farms. Directly from the experts, you will get to know the various grape varieties used, the geographical conditions that contribute to a wine of excellence and the vineyards of the properties.

Notice the differences between one Quinta and another, their details and the contrasts between modern and traditional. They are estates with passionate family stories and welcoming genuine owners.

At each Quinta, there will be a tasting (included) of their own wines, so that you can prove the unmistakable and unique taste of Algarvian wine.

At lunch (included) we invite you to taste the Algarve's gastronomy in the region of Silves, you will no doubt be delighted.

It will be a different and unforgettable day!
